International scientific - practical symposium
In collaboration with the European Group for Research into Elderly and Physical Activity

“CLIMBING THE LADDER OF LIFE, ACTIVE AND FIT”

October 5th – 7th, 2017

Kaunas, Lithuania

You are cordially invited to the International Scientific Symposium which will focus on the latest trends in research on active and successful aging. This symposium will therefore include scientific and academic sessions as well as practical workshops. In this way we can encourage academicians as well as practitioners – physical activity teachers, physiotherapists, trainers and physicians – to participate in both the scientific sessions as well as the active/experimental sessions.
